

My.Tupperware Update

My.Tupperware

- My.Tupperware will be upgraded September 6.
- The upgrade is mostly a new “engine” underneath, and a new layout on the surface.
- Much of what you experience within My.Tupperware will remain the same.
- There are a few additions, a few things going away, but the changes are minimal.

Transition

- Some profile information is going away:
 - Education
 - Occupation
 - Relationship status
 - Favorites/Interests
- Community section
 - Pictures that you have uploaded WILL be moved to the new system
 - Videos will NOT be moved

Email Transition

- On September 6
 - All emails sent to your my.tupperware email address will be delivered to the new system.
 - All of your contacts from the contact manager will be available in the new system.
- By September 27
 - Emails in the old system that are from the last 6 months will be moved to the new system.
 - No emails from the Trash or Spam folders will be moved.
- Through November 30
 - The old system will be available at <http://archive.tupperware.com> so that you have access to old emails.
- Beginning on September 6, you will not longer be able to forward your My.Tupperware email

What's New?

- Widgets? Widgets!
- Your landing page or “home” page
- The Contact Manager
- Recognition and Communication Reports

But first, what is a widget?

- A widget can be, well, anything. It's long been used as a word to describe a gadget that has no other name.
- In My.Tupperware, widgets are little sections on certain webpages that hold specific information. Almost like smaller webpages within a webpage.
- In the new My.Tupperware on the homepage, you can add widgets that you want to use, remove widgets that you don't want, and even move widgets around on the page.

WIDGET!!!

Homepage

- You can personalize your home page by adding, removing, and moving widgets
- Some widgets are “pinned” in place and cannot be removed or moved:
 - Carousel
 - News
 - Last 14 Days
 - Notifications
 - Progress Report
 - Title Step Ups
- If you remove a widget, you can add it back again.

- 1: A carousel widget featuring a woman on a bicycle and various Tupperware products like a lunch bag, a large insulated bag, a water bottle, and a lunchbox.
- 2: A 'Company News' widget displaying several news items, including 'Test Company news', 'WORLD CLASS BRANDS', and 'Test Company newstest'.
- 3: A 'Resource Categories' widget with a sub-section for 'Salesforce Website - Newest Resources' and a 'Last 14 Days' button.
- 4: A 'Business Snapshot' widget for user RAMONA RAMIREZ, showing fields for Name, Consultant ID, Current Paid Rank, Personal Retail Sales, and Personal Recruits.
- 5: A 'Progress Report' widget showing progress bars for Manager (100%), Star Manager (75%), and Executive Manager (35%), along with requirements for Personal Sales ($500/500).

Contact Manager

- The Contact Manager is the place where you'll have all of your Host and Consumer contacts. These are contacts that we are moving from the existing contact manager. NOT your downline.
- This new contact manager is a lot like the old system, but is easier to navigate, and it has some really great features.

Contact Manager

The screenshot displays the Tupperware Contact Manager interface. At the top, the Tupperware logo is on the left, and a navigation menu includes Home, My Profile, Community, My Sales, Tools, Salesforce Website, Training, and Reports. On the right, there are notification icons for 5 alerts and 0 messages, and a language selection dropdown set to English.

The main content area is titled "Contacts" and features a search bar with "Search Contacts" and an "Advanced Search" link. Below the search bar is a list of contact groups: "Recent Contacts (10)", "Contacts (31)", "yahoo (0)", "Product Lead (858)", "Opportunity Lead (100)", "Warm Market (4)", "Forwarded Contacts (3)", "Unassigned (407)", and "General (78)".

The central section is titled "What Would You Like To Do?" and contains two buttons: "Add A Contact" and "Manage Groups".

Below this is a section titled "3 Related Tasks/Appointments" with a "Next Steps" header. It lists three items:

Lead	Task Type	Description	Due Date	Priority	Action
AW Anna Walker Lead	Task	Contact your new lead:	07-12-16	No Priority	Take Action
GC Gerardo Cortes	Task	Follow up Gerardo	07-13-16	No Priority	Take Action
GC Gerardo Cortes	Appointment	Appointment With Gerardo Cortes	07-21-16		Take Action

Contact Manager

The screenshot displays the Tupperware CRM interface. At the top, the navigation bar includes the Tupperware logo, home and profile links, and various menu items like 'My Sales', 'Tools', 'Salesforce Website', 'Training', and 'Reports'. There are also notification icons for 2 alerts and 0 messages, and a language selection dropdown.

The main content area is titled 'Contacts' and features a search bar with a 'Search Contacts' placeholder and an 'Advanced Search' link. Below the search bar is a list of contacts, each with a checkbox, a circular profile icon, and the contact's name and role. The selected contact, Anna Walker, is shown in detail in the right-hand pane. Her details include her name, phone number (4078265050), email address (annawalker@tupperware.com), level of interest (Very Interested), address (14901 S. Orange Blossom Trail Orlando, FL 32837), and contact type (Lead). A vertical toolbar on the right side of the contact details pane provides actions such as 'Details', 'Send Message', 'Start Call Script', 'Notes', 'Create Task', 'Create Event', 'Next Steps (1)', 'View History', and 'Add To Group'. The top right of the contact details pane includes 'Delete' and 'Edit' options.

Contact Manager

- Many of you use TupperTrends, provided by our MORE Benefits provider IMN.
- This Contact Manager is not meant to replace that service.
- TupperTrends is a great service, providing a way to send out regular emails, and then receive a report on who got the emails, who opened them, and who clicked on them.

Reports

- All of your current reports will remain in My Sales, there is no change in any of those.
- A few new reports will be available in My.Tupperware, focused on helping with recognition and communication with your team.
- These new reports are available for those with paid accounts only.
- There will be more reports to follow in the future, just don't forget, all the reports you use today remain in My Sales.

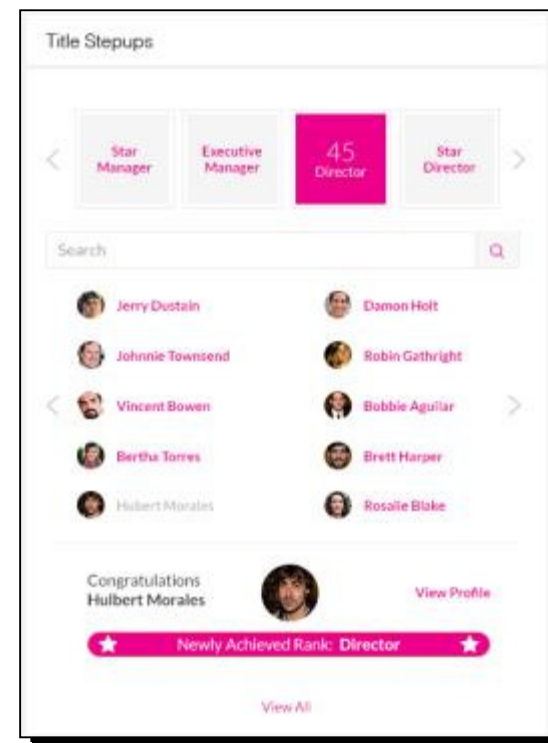

Progress Report – Paid Accounts Only

- This report is a widget, so you can choose to view it on your homepage.
- It shows you how close you are to achieving the next title.

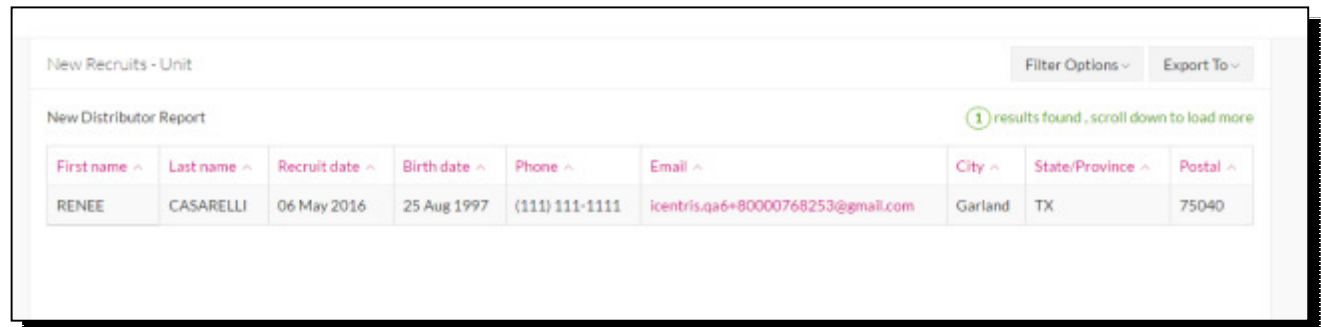

Title StepUps – Paid Accounts Only

- This report is a widget, so you can choose to view it on your homepage.
- It shows you everyone in your organization/team/unit who achieved a new title at the end of the last month.
- It is updated once a month after the end of month commissioning run, the Wednesday after the end of the month.
