Ultra 21 Ovenware

Ultra 21 Ovenware is a product line of dishes, roasters and pans developed and sold by Tupperware in the 1980's. Ultra 21 items are able to be used in a conventional oven and are microwave reheatable as well.

Sales Force Members are able to offer their customers Obsolete Credit for Ultra 21 that falls under Warranty guidelines. The Sales Force Member gives the Customer credit toward the purchase of Tupperware and then processes the obsolete credit in My Sales when placing the Customer's order.

In some circumstances, if the credit value of the Obsolete Credit exceeds the value allowed in My Sales, the Sales Force Member will need to complete the steps above and submit to customer care for credit.

Important! The Oven Works line is not considered a comparable item. The materials used to make Oven Works are completely different from the materials used to make Ultra 21.
